The website

I'm almost done with all the pages now, the bio and media pages are still left though.

Since I'm using an Apple software called iWeb, I'm having some problems with especially Internet Explorer. I'm sorry if some pages therefore look a bit strange to some of you...trust me, I'm working on it.

Below is an old pic of me and my brothers, the guys who got me into music.

Lars Mats Janne

THANKS AGAIN...

In the previous letter, I listed some albums my brother Janne had in his collection. Brother Lars used to record tapes for me with some of his best albums, here are a few.

Nazareth had a great period in the mid-seventies, my favourite was "Loud 'N' Proud". A big salute to Dan McCafferty, the scottish combination of Bon S. & Brian J. from AC/DC - a voice like no other.

Might be the best hard rock live album ever, "Made In Japan" with Deep Purple is full of improvisation and a must in any rocker's collection.

Many would argue, but "Sabbath Bloody Sabbath" is the best Black Sabbath album to me. Ozzy was in his prime and using Rick Wakeman was a stroke of genius. I just love the sound of this album.

I'm no big Santana freak, but Lars had "Inner Secrets" and I liked it. Maybe not Santana's best album, but still worth a listen.

I listened a lot to "Watch" by Manfred Mann's Earth Band. Chris Thompson's got a great voice, and Manfred Mann is playing some mean solos.
